Position: Summer Intern

Duration: 8-10 weeks

Type: Paid hourly or course credit

About Us

Geigsen is a consulting firm that helps leaders seamlessly integrate strategy and human elements for lasting success. We believe that solving organizational challenges starts with shifting human behavior. By integrating strategy and psychology, we foster long-term growth and success for our clients. Known for our holistic approach and practical solutions, we build deep client relationships grounded in transparency, integrity, and collaboration. Our work enhances team and individual awareness to drive clear vision, effective execution, and sustainable outcomes.

Position Overview

We seek highly motivated Masters-level interns pursuing degrees in Strategy, Business, Social/Organizational Psychology, or related fields. This role offers hands-on experience in consulting and mentorship from experienced professionals. Work will focus on client deliverables, organizational support, and drafting presentations.

Key Responsibilities

- Assist in the development of client deliverables, including research, data analysis, and report preparation
- Organize and manage project workflows to ensure timely delivery of high-quality results
- Collaborate with the team to create visually appealing and effective slides for client presentations
- Support project planning, meeting coordination, and other organizational tasks
- Contribute to team discussions with insights grounded in your academic discipline

Qualifications

- Currently pursuing a master's degree in social/organizational psychology, business, or a related field
- Strong communication and organizational skills
- Proficiency in PowerPoint and Excel; experience with project management tools is a plus
- A keen eye for detail, ability to work under deadlines, and willingness to take initiative
- Interest in psychology or people-centric strategy execution
- Previous professional experience preferred
